

BANKRUPT

We're Bankrupt from Budapest, Hungary. We've been around for 17 years. We have a background in melodic punk rock, but over the years our sound has evolved into a unique blend of punk, indie, surf, garage rock, and punkabilly.

Our latest release, the 5-song EP Goodbye Blue Monday, is a combination of our trademark Ramones-flavored punk rock sound and experiments in indie pop territory.

Goodbye Blue Monday is our 7th release, and similarly to the previous one, it is offered as a free download right away. Our discography is made up of three albums (Listen – 2000, Bad Hair Day – 2004, Shorter Than Danny DeVito-2006) and 4 EPs (Rocket To Riot City – 2008, Razor Wires And Neon Lights – 2009, Rewound – 2011, Goodbye Blue Monday – 2013). We've received tons of good reviews from around the world and our songs got spins at radio stations from Germany to Alaska. We have worldwide digital distribution via iTunes, Amazon, eMusic, and BandCamp, but we also offer free downloads.

We have played about 400 gigs so far in 9 countries (Hungary, Austria, Germany, the Czech Republic, Italy, Slovenia, Croatia, Serbia and Slovakia), including several festivals.
